

The Daily Courant.

Friday, June 23 1704.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 24.

Vienna, June 11.

THE 9th being the Emperor's Birth-day, in which he entred into the 65th Year of his Age, his Imperial Majesty receiv'd the Compliments of the Court upon it as usual. The same Day we receiv'd Advice, that a considerable Body of the Rebels was advanc'd near the Lines that are thrown up round our Suburbs, whereupon some Troops were sent out to observe them, while the Nobility Citizens and Inhabitants of our Suburbs and Places adjacent who ran to Arms were dispos'd in the Lines: A little after we saw the Rebels marching in two Columns near Swecher, in Number 1000 Men. They are encamp'd on the Plain, and have made a great Ravage, and wherever they come leave behind them Marks of strange Brutality. They have kill'd all the wild Beasts that were kept in the Park a little Way from hence for the Diversion of the Court. The Turks spar'd those Beasts when they besieg'd this City. Last Night 2 great Fires were seen at the Distance of 2 Leagues from this City, but we know not yet what was the Occasion of them. Mean time the whole Garrison and all the Burghers of the Place keep in Arms, and some Detachments will be made to secure the Neighbouring Villages. 'Tis reported for certain that the King of the Romans will shortly set out from hence to take upon him the Command of the Imperial Army in Germany. The Emperor's Order for converting the Church Plate into Money, is begun to be executed throughout the Hereditary Countries, and above 30000 Rixdollars are coyn'd weekly in this City out of the Gold and Silver sent in from Monasteries and Churches. General Heister has burnt Vespriin and Papa, because the Inhabitants of those Places were the first that revolted again from the Emperor when the Rebels came last over the Danube into the lower Hungary. General Theirheim who commands in the Upper Austria is order'd to send a Reinforcement of 5000 Men to General Heister.

Nerva, May 25. The 22d of this Month Colonel Rebinder entred this Place with 600 Men, of the Militia who are well disciplin'd. The 23d Vice Admiral Prow entred the Port with 22 Ships great and small, notwithstanding the Batteries rais'd to defend the Entrance of it by the Muscovites who keep this Place block'd up. 1000 Land Soldiers came in these Ships. Major General Slippenbach is on the March hither with a Body of Horse, when he arrives we shall endeavour to oblige the Muscovites to quit the Blockade.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated June 24.

Sendomir, June 3. The great Council assembled here, have declar'd the Cardinal Primate and the Prince Lubomirski have forfeited all their Offices and Dignities; as also that the King shall promise upon Oath, not to demand any thing of the Republick on Account of the Summs he has expended and borrow'd of other Potentates during the War: that the Saxon Troops shall be oblig'd to serve in Subordination to the Army of the Crown: That the Money which shall be advanc'd by any Potentate who shall enter into Alliance with the King against the Swedes, shall be applied to pay the Army; and that whatever Conquests shall be gain'd shall be for the sole Profit and Advantage of the Republick. This Assembly is compos'd of 2 Bishops, 7 Palatines, 9 Castellans, several Ministers of State and Officers of the Crown, the Deputies of 12 Palatinats, and of the Nobility of the Palatinats of Sendomir and Cracow. They have declar'd that whoever shall procure himself to be proclaim'd King of Poland by the Confederates at Warsaw, and take upon him to act as such, shall be reputed an Usurper and a Tyrant. And have promis'd a great Reward to whoever shall deliver the Cardinal Primate and Prince Lubomirski alive or dead into the Hands of the King.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated June 24.

Cracow, June 6. We have Advice from the Camp at Sendomir, that in the Sessions held between the 27th and 31st of last Month, the Act or Instrument of general Confederacy for defending the Rights of the King and the Republick was read and agreed to. All those who sign'd the Confederacy of Warsaw, are declar'd Rebels and Enemies of their Country; and those who are of that Confederacy but have not sign'd it, are allow'd 4 Weeks to return to their Duty, on Condition they take an Oath of Fidelity to the King without delay. Some propos'd this Favour should be allow'd the great General of the Crown, but the Nobility of Sendomir would not consent to it. The Family of Sapieha was likewise excluded from this Favour, and the Disposal of their Offices was approv'd. Deputies are sent to the Pope's Nuncio, to desire him to endeavour to perswade his Holiness to degrade the Cardinal Primate and the Bishop of Posenania; mean time their Ecclesiastical Revenues are sequestred, and are to be employ'd in paying the Army of the Crown. Four Weeks are allow'd to the under General, to General Brandt and other Officers of the Army of the Crown, to enter into the Confederacy for the King, in default of which they will be declar'd Accomplices of the Conspirators of Warsaw. The Authority of the Marshal of the Confederate Army is fix'd and limited, and that Army is to be paid a certain Sum of Money, which the great Treasurer is order'd to issue accordingly. It was resolv'd likewise to make Alliances with Foreign Potentates, on condition that the Republick shall thereby suffer no dismembring of any Province. The Palatinats are order'd to mount all on Horseback. The new Oath which his Majesty is to take, in which he is to express his Dereftation of Arbitrary Power, and promise to maintain the Liberty and Laws of the Kingdom, was read on the 30th: After which some Deputies went to invite his Majesty and the Senate to joyn their Counsels with those of the Nobility. The King, accompanied by 16 Senators, appear'd immediately after, and was receiv'd by the Marshal at the Head of the Deputies. His Majesty made a very pathetick Speech to them, setting forth his Love to and Zeal for the Welfare of the Republick: The Palatine of Sendomir made a long Deduction of the Vexations

Vexations the Country had suffer'd from the Swedes, and in what manner both they and the Confederates of Warsaw had deceiv'd and abus'd the Commissioners of the Republick. The Palatine of Russia insisted on the same Argument with great strength of Reasoning, and concluded that it was highly expedient to supplicate the Pope to take away the Title of Eminency from a Man who had drawn all those Calamities and Disorders on his Country.

Warsaw, June 6. The Election of a new King continues fix'd to the 19th of this Month, By which time the King of Sweden is expected here with his Army from Heilsberg. We learn from the King of Poland's Camp at Sendomir, that his Majesty was in daily Expectation of being joyn'd by a Body of 15 or 20000 Muscovites who are said to be arriv'd on the Frontier of Lithuania; and that 18000 Saxons are come from Saxony to Saur in Poland.

Letters from Hamburg of the 17th of June say, General Reinschild is advanc'd into the Palatinate of Sendomir with a Body of Swedes; has had an Engagement with some Polish and Saxon Troops, and kill'd 600 of them.
